Dear Madrona Families,

We want to make sure that everyone knows that MIT has a scholarship fund to help families cover the costs of school supplies and a limited number of field trips. These funds do not come from the school district they come from the MIT budget. MIT has set aside a small budget out of our Kids Fund, our annual fundraiser.

Our teachers must collect these funds in order to pay for the supplies they have already purchased or for the field trips they have planned, they often pay out of pocket and later seek reimbursement. Any funds that centers are unable to collect have a direct effect on our amazing teachers and students. We understand that sometimes things come up beyond our control that makes it very difficult, if not impossible for families to cover these types of expenses. We would never want any child in our community to be left out of an activity or event as a result of this kind of situation. This is exactly why MIT has set aside money for scholarships.

If you need help covering these costs please review the attached guidelines and speak with your child's teacher for more information on requesting a scholarship.

Best Regards,

The MIT Board
